Description

Two black and white photos of pioneers at Rose Harbour in 1935. Photo 1 shows Basil and Anne Richardson and their son Keith standing in front of a house (only the porch and a window are visible on the house). There is an animal (a dog?) visible between them. Photo 2 is of a man standing in a decomposing whale carcass. In the background there are two buildings visible. The man is facing away from the camera and is carrying a long handled tool.
